

2018 Biography

Jim Webb, AICP is the Chief Executive Officer of The Goodman Corporation (TGC), where he helps public and private sector clients plan, design, fund, and implement infrastructure projects that yield public benefit. Jim's passion for transforming ideas into the built environment has yielded TGC clients millions of dollars in discretionary funding and has helped to expedite project delivery; even in the face of bureaucratic grant requirements.

Prior to his role at TGC, Jim has worked in the Transportation Improvement Program group at the Houston-Galveston Area Council, as a transportation planner and travel demand modeler at the Tri-County Regional Planning Commission in Peoria, Illinois, and in a planning and economic development capacity at the City of Palos Heights, Illinois. Jim received a Bachelor's degree in Urban and Regional Planning as well as a Master's degree in Public Administration from the University of Illinois. He received his accreditation as a Certified Planner from the American Planning Association (APA) in 2015.
