

American Iron and Steel Seminar

For decades, the federal government has repeatedly passed, expanded and defended provisions requiring the use of domestically manufactured iron and steel products in projects receiving federal financial aid.

This seminar is designed to overview the facts, differences and proper application of the Federal Highway Administration's "Buy America" and the EPA's "American Iron and Steel" requirements. We will also discuss common misapplications, and why it is critically important for all involved in every step of a public works project to understand and adhere to these requirements.

This 45-minute seminar is presented by Chris Keffer. Mr. Keffer is president of The Iron Group LLC. He and his firm specialize in guiding both private and government entities on interests ranging from oil and gas exploration, transportation, domestic manufacturing policies and water/wastewater infrastructure. His full bio is attached for more information on him and his firm.
